

BOSTON STRATEGIES INTERNATIONAL

There is one more week to submit a nomination for Boston Strategies International's 2011 Oil and Gas supply chain awards. The awards are a not-for-profit annual recognition of outstanding supply chain performance.

Previous award winners include Shell, Chevron, Baker Hughes, Qatar Fuel, Bharat Petroleum, and FMC Kongsberg Subsea, to name a few.

The winners will be recognized at the 5th Annual Global Procurement and Supply Chain Management for the Oil and Gas Industry event in Barcelona in September, and can opt to have their success story told in the upcoming book titled Effective Supply Chain Management in Oil, Gas, and Power Generation.

There is no cost to enter. Winners will receive one complimentary ticket to the conference, a 4500 euro value, to send a delegate to receive the award. This international event is your opportunity to see the newest supply chain techniques being implemented and to meet the experts behind them. In addition, you will receive a customized engraved trophy and digital photographs of the ceremony.

To nominate a winner, please complete the five-minute entry form found here. No confidential data is required! Submit your entry now, as the deadline for initial nominations is August 15.

Even if you don't apply for the awards, register through Boston Strategies International to receive a 40% discount on the registration fee for this not-to-be-missed conference. If you are a winner, your ticket will be free!

August 2011 Newsletter

Table of Contents

[Global Supply Chain
Risk Presentation](#)

Meet Nicolai Jakobsen

Give Us Feedback

Attend: Managing Supply Chain Risk "Beyond BRIC"

October 24, 2011. "Beyond BRIC: Supply Chain Strategy in Emerging Economies" 2011 APICS International Conference & Expo, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

As the pace of globalization accelerates, many companies are looking beyond the BRIC nations-Brazil, Russia, India, and China-for sustained growth. However, it is unclear exactly which countries will become emerging market leaders and what supply chain and operational risks they will entail. This session will explore how to succeed in the new economy and techniques for managing the risks associated with that growth.

Profile: Nicolai Jakobsen

Nicolai Kramer Jakobsen is a Senior Associate with Boston Strategies International. He is responsible for economic modelling of drilling, oil industry operations, and renewable energy adoption.

Nicolai received his Masters degree in Economics from Boston University with concentrations in Energy, Financial Management & Public Policy, and a Bachelors of Science degree in Economics from the University of Copenhagen.

Prior to joining Boston Strategies International, Nicolai worked at Maersk Oil in Copenhagen, where he conducted an in depth analysis of the political and competitive environment of a number of National Oil Companies.

Nicolai speaks fluent Danish, Swedish, Norwegian, and Farsi. He is also proficient in French, and speaks basic German. If you want to speak with Nicolai, please feel free to email him at njakobsen@bostonstrategies.com or call him at +1 (781) 263-7218 .

Give Us Feedback

If you have had an experience with Boston Strategies International - through an engagement, proposal, presentation, or even just based on this newsletter - please share your feedback.

Click here to share your feedback with us.

BOSTON STRATEGIES INTERNATIONAL

info@bostonstrategies.com

(1) (781) 250-8150

www.bostonstrategies.com